

Friendship

Friendship is an act of giving to others.

Learning to be a true friend means facing yourself, observing your actions and attitudes to others – this takes great courage.

The only way to find a friend is to be one.